

Marketplace Overview (snippet)

You can use the Armor Marketplace to begin the purchase and configuration process for available add-on products.

Some add-on products in the Armor Marketplace may require additional support from Armor before you can use the add-on products.

When you select an add-on product, a ticket will be automatically created and sent to Armor Support to begin the configuration process. Additionally, the billing process will begin.

After a successful order, you can view your products in the Purchased Products section under Marketplace.
